The John J. Hemmingson CENTER

The intentional design of the John J. Hemmingson Center brings to life Gonzaga University's rich history, educational experiences, and serves as a gathering place for the University and the greater Spokane community. With over 167,000 sq. ft. of contemporary space, the Center creates the ideal setting for meetings, conferences, and special events. The Hemmingson Center has been awarded Gold LEED Certification based on sustainable design, building materials, and energy efficient features.
