

BOOK LAUNCH

COME CELEBRATE THE RELEASE OF DR. FAVARA'S BOOK!

Dr. Favara will discuss the crucial role that military recruitment advertising played in making the U.S. military one of the most diverse institutions in the United States. Informed by Black feminism, critical race theory, and queer of color critique, the talk will discuss how the military and advertisers deployed a set of strategies called tactical inclusion to connect with new audiences and render them vulnerable to, valuable to, and subject to state violence.

Wednesday, April 17
5 - 6:15 PM

College Commons
153 Humanities Building
