

Critical Race and Ethnic Studies at Gonzaga University Presents:

AN INTERDISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVE

November 21, 2019 beginning at 10:50 AM and November 22, 2019 beginning at 12:00 PM
College Commons, Humanities Building 153

The new Department of Critical Race and Ethnic Studies at Gonzaga University invites you to learn more about our department and field of study through a two day symposium.

Come and learn about existing, cutting edge, and exciting work being done at Gonzaga University in the interdisciplinary field of Critical Race and Ethnic Studies. Presentations include faculty and students from Critical Race and Ethnic Studies, Communication Studies, History, Biology, Women and Gender Studies, and English.

Come to as many presentations as you like.

No RSVP required. Light refreshments will be served.
