

THE 2018 BERNARD J. TYRRELL, S.J. LECTURE IN PHILOSOPHY OF GOD, AND THEOLOGY
Thursday, April 26, 4:30pm
Jundt Museum Auditorium
Gonzaga University

Holiness and the Desire for God in a Secular Age

This lecture explores the lives of the Holocaust victim, Etty Hillesum, and the French saint, Thérèse of Lisieux, as models of holiness who can speak to our lives in the secular age.

Randall S. Rosenberg, Ph.D. is Associate Professor of Systematic Theology in the Department of Theological Studies at Saint Louis University. Dr. Rosenberg is the author of The Givenness of Desire: Concrete Subjectivity and the Natural Desire to See God (Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 2017). He teaches courses on the topics of Theological Foundations, Love and the Human Condition, Christology, Theology of the Human Person. His numerous articles appear in such journals as Theological Studies, Gregorianum, and Logos.

Sponsored by the Department of Religious Studies, the Philosophy Department, the Office of Mission and Ministry, the Office of the Academic Vice President, and the Gonzaga Jesuit Community