HONORS COURSE OFFERINGS

Greetings Honors Students,

This brochure is meant to be a tool to aid scheduling and registration. We have made every effort to be complete and accurate in the information contained, however, if the information in this flier differs from the information in either the Course Catalog or Zagweb, please follow the Catalog and Zagweb, which are official documents of Gonzaga University.

Also, please attempt to register for the HONS numbers of the Honors Designated courses if possible. However, if those course numbers are already full, please register for the parent course number. You will still receive credit for the Honors Designated course, regardless of which course number you use.

HONORS COLLOQUIA

HONS 290 01 Inequality

Dr. Kelsey Carlston

CRN: 11986

Schedule & Location: TR

2:05 PM – 3:20 PM

Jepson Center 124

Credits: 3

This course equips students with the critical thinking skills necessary to analyze inequality in our society, utilizing both qualitative and quantitative tools to explore causes, consequences, and potential solutions. Students will develop proficiency in data analysis, visualization techniques, and the effective communication of complex issues while learning to navigate technology applications that support decision-making. Upon completion, students will gain a deeper understanding of how social systems shape human experiences, particularly for vulnerable populations, and will be empowered to advocate for social transformation toward a more just and equitable world.

HONS 390 01 Race & Art II

Dr. Jessica Maucione and Dr. Sharon Parker

CRN: 11449

Schedule & Location: TR

12:35 PM – 1:50 PM

Jepson Center 120

Credits: 3

This team-taught course primarily aims to look at some of those instances in the visual and literary arts when creativity, race, and a sense of displacement converge. In other words, students will get to examine together how the experiences of racial marginalization and displacement are critiqued, interrogated, and at times “resolved” by writers and visual artists in the Americas. We will also explore through juxtaposition the parallels, points of intersection, and perhaps moments of radical difference between visual representations and literary representations of this unique convergence. Requirements include formal individual papers, informal journals and discussions, and a collaborative research-based small group project.
