

The background of the entire image is a photograph of the main entrance of Gonzaga University. The building is constructed of red brick with a grey stone archway over the entrance. Above the archway, the words "GONZAGA COLLEGE" are carved in stone. Below the archway, on either side of the entrance steps, are stone pillars with the inscriptions "FOUNDED 1887" and "ERECTED 1898". A statue of a man in religious robes stands in the center of the archway. The building has several arched windows with white frames. The roof is made of grey tiles. A small "IHS" emblem is visible in the gable above the entrance.

50th REUNION

Class of 1970 Reunion Planning Committee

You have the best classmates! A special thank you to the Class of 1970 planning committee for your guidance, patience and care during this uncertain time. The Alumni office is grateful for your active engagement with us to determine best steps moving forward for your 50-year Gonzaga Reunion.

ZAG ALUMNI & FRIENDS

Class of 1970,

On behalf of Gonzaga University, congratulations on the anniversary of 50 years since graduation! We sincerely regret the circumstances that have led us to reschedule your reunion. Our priority as an Alumni Relations office is to ensure your class has the memorable and meaningful 50th Reunion you deserve.

We hope that you will enjoy reconnecting with your classmates through this memory book as we look forward to welcoming you back to campus next year. Our office is busy planning and preparing for a memorable 50th anniversary weekend when the time is right and safe to do so.

When you return to campus, we hope you are able to reconnect with your classmates, walk down memory lane, and rekindle fond memories of attending Gonzaga. Your classmates who serve on the planning committee are staying in touch and planning this special weekend just for you.

Thank you so much for connecting with us! In the words of Fr. Tony Lehman...

To Be Continued!

William Robert Becker

(William Robert Becker, S.J.)

Spouse's name and alma mater:

Patricia Beaupre Becker - Marymount Manhattan, N.Y.

Names, ages, & alma mater of your children:

Step-Daughter, Ruby - Bauman College

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

27 years working in financial services (Wells Fargo) in the San Francisco Bay Area; volunteer service in multiple ministries at St. John of God Parish - Newman Center at UCSF Medical Center in San Francisco (music, CCD instructor, member of several councils - parish & finance); recently 2 + years of volunteer work at Habitat for Humanity Greater Bay Area.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Dr. Marilyn Stanton (anatomy & physiology); Armand Nigro, SJ (philosophy); Michael J. Buckley, SJ (philosophy); Mike Hertzog (English); David Leigh, SJ (English).

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Lived at Mt. St. Michael; Commuted daily to GU campus; Wonderful Campus Community; Events at Waikiki Retreat House; Liturgies in the Student Chapel; Music of the Soul Concern at Liturgies; Intramural sports in the Martin Center; the beauty of the 4 seasons (a lad raised in Los Angeles, CA)

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Wonderful sense of community from teachers and staff and from the students (I was a transfer from Loyola University in LA, CA; I spent my last two years of college at GU - 1968 to 1970).

What are your passions and interests today?

Service to St. John of God Parish; Enjoy international travel with my wife, Pat, and friends. Ignatian Spirituality continues to inform my life even though I am no longer a Jesuit.

MaryAnn Bennett

(MaryAnn Padden Moberg)

Spouse's name and alma mater:

Dr. Thomas J. Bennett. UCLA, WSU

Names, ages, & alma mater of your children:

Julia Moberg Metzker, Evergreen, U of A; Patrick Moberg, Atty., UC Florida, U of Florida; Jeremy Moberg, Evergreen BS; Col. David Bennett, West Point; Robert Bennett, Atty., WSU, SPU; Dr. Michelle Bennett (PLU); James Bennett, CWU

Names & ages of your grandchildren:

Christopher Bennett, Eric Bennett, Alex Bennett, Ryan Bennett, Elodie Bennett, Veronika Bennett, Brace Bennett, Ella Bennett, Carl Bennett, Tommy Bennett, Charlie Bennett, Samantha Bennett, James Bennett, Abi Bennett, Daniel Bennett, Selah Bennett, Tehya Moberg, Mia Moberg and Miles Moberg

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I graduated with a BA in English and minor in Art and did my student teaching my Senior year (took 24 sem. Credits and had my daughter Julia 3 weeks after graduation). I started my teaching career at St Al's then moved to St. Augustine's (now Cataldo) in Spokane. Then I moved to Moses Lake, Washington where I taught for 30 years, earning my Masters in Curriculum and Supervision and Special Education certification. A highlight in my career was to give presentations on team teaching and on nongraded / integrated classrooms at Conferences in Seattle and Columbus, Ohio. I had a very satisfying career and am thankful to have had the opportunities I did, and to have worked with children all those years.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

My Italian class was excellent as were my English classes for my major. The art classes in Italy and the opportunities to see and study the Italian art were phenomenal. The trip to Russia to Hermitage will always stay with me.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I lived in Catherine-Monica for two years then left for Italy. Came back married so really only had 2 years on campus. I remember mandatory retreats and curfews. And watching intramural football games in the mud. And cold winters

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Gonzaga in Florence, Italy. 1968-69 was a fabulous year for me. There were many excellent tours, including the Middle East: Greece, Israel, Lebanon, Turkey and a Spring Break tour to Russia. And of course all the weekend hitchhiking trips to Germany, France, Switzerland, etc. learning Italian and experiencing all the cultures were a wonderful education. The many close friends and experiences made indelible memories.

What are your passions and interests today?

My passions today are tackling all those artistic projects I put aside for years because I was busy with a big family. I quilt, paint and travel with my husband visiting all those grandchildren. But at this point I get to stay home and sew masks as we're in the middle of the corona virus pandemic. I read, garden, cook, knit and keep up with friends. I have a leadership position in the Episcopal church in town, and am currently President of a P.E.O. Chapter. And staying at home is a blessing for me.

Sylvia L. Boehmer. San Diego State University (BA Russian)

What was your degree?

BA Political Science; MA Political Science (Georgetown University) International Relations)

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

After Gonzaga, moved to Washington, DC, where I earned a M.A. in Political Science with major in International Relations from Georgetown U. In 1972 commissioned as 2LT in US Army and served as a data processing staff officer and race relations officer for the installation. In 1974 hired into EDS as a systems engineer trainee and into what would be a career in information technology. Married Sylvia Williams in 1976 and we will celebrate our 44 year anniversary this year. Worked in San Francisco in banking systems as a systems engineer trainee and then systems engineer. Accepted an overseas assignment with EDS in Iran. Lived in Northern Tehran. Worked on banking systems. Studied Farsi for two years. We were able to travel in and around Tehran. When the Iranian revolution began, we moved back to Dallas Texas for a year. I was able to assist with the stateside support of evacuating our employees and their families from Tehran. After one in year in Dallas, moved back overseas to the Netherlands where we lived and worked from 1979-1985. Worked on social and commercial insurance systems. Lived initially in Huizen working in Zeist and then moved to Wassenaar (just outside Den Hague) working in Rotterdam. We were able to travel around Europe while there. After living overseas for eight of nine years with the company's international division, decided to repatriate to the Washington, DC area. Worked primarily on defense related systems as well as marketing and sales for our military systems division. Had one overseas gig to Ankara, Turkey but that was my only foray back overseas with EDS.

After 25 years with EDS took an early retirement in 1999. Continued to work in IT marketing, sales and consulting as a "free agent", one of my jobs was working with a British consulting firm during which I had the opportunity to travel back and forth to the UK. I also had a consulting assignment in which I spent four weeks in Singapore studying that governments response to the SARS crisis. In 2013 decided to retire for good. Earned Masters degree in Political Science with Major in International Relations from Georgetown University, commissioned as officer in US Army 72-74.

Names & ages of your grandchildren:

Charlie, 13 and Rosie, 11 Chapman; Addison Braet, 10; Julian Bonilla, 3.

What was your degree?

BA in Math

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Bill and I were married soon after Graduation and settled in a suburb of Chicago. I became a mom to 3 children, after 13 years at home, became a junior high math teacher, then assistant principal at our local Catholic school. I left that to partner with Bill when he opened his own business doing hospital and physician professional liability Insurance. We retired from that in 2013.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Dr. Zane Mottler, my math teacher and advisor and all of my other math professors.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I have so many wonderful memories at GU: Friday nights in the Lumberyard, keggars at the lagoon, Domini sandwiches, Strombolis, The Bubble, Zag hockey games, basketball in the Kennedy Pavilion, masses in the student chapel.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Gonzaga opened up a much bigger world to me than the small high school I attended in Portland, but at the same time remained small and intimate in the relationships that I formed and remain with me today. The importance of family, both my Gonzaga family and my own, are even more important in the challenging times we are experiencing.

What are your passions and interests today?

My passions today definitely involve spending as much time as possible with my children and grandchildren. We travel to San Diego and Santa Fe as often as possible to make that happen. We are blessed to have one here in the Chicago area.

Celebrating our 70th birthdays in Hanalei!

Bill and I with our Grandchildren.

Names, ages, & alma mater of your children:

Brian - 47 - Univ of San Diego - lives in San Diego; Holly - 44 - Gonzaga - lives in Santa Fe; Ashlee - 41 - Univ of Pittsburgh - lives in Chicago.

Names & ages of your grandchildren:

Charlie 13, Rosie 11, Addie 10, Jullian 3.

What was your degree?

BA in Math

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

After graduation my high blood pressure kept me from flying in the Navy so I married Betty (the girl in the row behind me in Freshman Philosophy). I went into the specialty insurance business with a Lloyds of London broker in Chicago. After working in various ends of the liability insurance business I opened my own agency in 1998, insuring Hospitals and Physicians for Professional Liability. I retired in 2013. For the past 6 years I've volunteered as a mentor for young boys in a Chicago inner city grade school. I'm still trying to figure out what I want to do when I grow up.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Lucy Lake - Freshman English (she gave blanket "Pass" grades), Speech Class (I got an "A" for putting on some tights and going onstage to act in Macbeth), Conversational German (got an A for watching German Tourist Videos), Golf & Tennis (where I learned that Marty Pugilar was a worse golfer than me) and probably most important was Freshman Philosophy (where I fell in lust with a girl in the row behind me).

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Too many to count or list here but all easy to remember like it was yesterday. Started with registering at the lower Cog to get a freshman beanie and officially ended when God answered my prayers and I actually managed to graduate (on time!). But the good times stretched out for 50 more years with our life long GU friends.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

1. Good friends will be friends for a lifetime.
2. Be a free thinker and make logical decisions
3. Respect and enjoy other people of all walks of life.
4. I'll continue to do some good things but also some stupid things as I go thru life. Most of my baggage is good.

What are your passions and interests today?

Family is my #1 commitment of time and passion. Grandkids are amazing. I do think I'm getting taller now because it seems much harder to get down to play on the floor. I love water sports, beaching, swimming, snorkeling, fishing and sailing. Chicago Blackhawks Season Tics for 35 years. Fixing things. Betty says my real passion is talking to people !!!

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Starting as a third grade teacher, getting my library degree, and then becoming a professional development trainer in technology integration and retiring as the Coordinator of Instructional Technology for Spokane Public Schools. Highlight was the three years I spent administering a 45 million dollar grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates foundation that supplied Washington state teachers with classroom technology and the training to use it appropriately.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Tom Gilmore, Father Grief, Monsieur Toutonghi, (he jumped in the car with us to attend the Robert F. Kennedy speech at SCC). And the Ed Block that launched my teaching career.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Living in Catherine Monica and keeping "hours". A special year in Campion, (with panty raids). Wearing skirts to the library and to Sunday dinner. Having the message light go on in my dorm room. Folk mass in the student chapel. Many great friends that have lasted a life-time.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

The value of friendship. Meeting my husband of almost 50 years who has kept us cheering on the Bulldogs and a part of the Gonzaga Athletic family.

What are your passions and interests today?

Family, of course. My accomplished daughters, my beautiful grandchildren, my garden, reading, food, lots and lots of travel and fantastic hiking experiences.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I was totally excited to be going into GU. I had a feeling that I would leave my childhood behind by doing this and grow into the next stage of my life. 1966-70 were amazing years in the world: the music, the growing awareness of social justice, and civil rights, Vietnam, the women's movement. They were all at work to shake us up and help us prepare to make a difference. Many of the classes I took supported social justice and awareness. How great it was to be with friends and talk about issues - as if we were going to make a difference. I think my friends and I are still a bit idealistic around the edges. That's ok with me.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Going to Florence in 1968-69 was life-changing. It was really the beginning of my involvement in international education. Since that time I have lived and taught EFL/ESL in Zambia, South Korea, The People's Republic of China, and Japan. I was an instructor at the English Language Institute (ELI), Eastern Washington University (EWU) from 1988 to 2007 and Director from 1995 to 2007. At EWU I taught international students and also ESL teachers in training. While at EWU and the ELI, I actively recruited students from East Asia and made many trips there. In 2007, my husband, Mark Landa, was offered a job at Mukogawa Women's University in Nishinomiya, Japan. We decided to move to Japan. We downsized dramatically, knowing that we would move to Portland when we finished our teaching jobs in Japan. After the earthquake in 2011, we did move to Portland, where son Steven and family are. I taught at the Academic English Center at Lewis & Clark College for four years and then retired. For many years, our focus was on Asia. These days, we are turning toward Europe again. So, it all began with that first plane ride across the US to New York City and then the SS Aurelia to Rotterdam!

What are your passions and interests today?

I still care deeply about international affairs. I read and talk about it all the time. I spend as much time as I can with my grandchildren, helping them become kind, generous, and aware of the world. I am also involved in The Family Village, a transition shelter for families in Portland. I am learning about trauma informed dialogue, architecture, and ways of being present.

Martin Burke

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Following graduation, I served as a Jesuit Volunteer, teaching at Monroe High School in Fairbanks, Alaska. I subsequently attended law school, earning law degrees from both the University of Montana and New York University. Although I served as a federal law clerk and practiced law, most of my professional life was spent in legal education. I served for many years as a faculty member at the University of Montana and also served as a visiting professor at Loyola Law School (Los Angeles), New York University, University of Florida and University of Washington. I had the privilege of serving as Dean of Law at the University of Montana for five years. During my teaching career, I wrote and published in the field of federal tax law (and continue to write and publish in that field). My volunteer work has included considerable work with the American Bar Association Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar, the State Bar of Montana, St. Patrick Hospital, and the Missoula Art Museum.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Father Richard Twohy (Western Political Thought); all of my Italian classes; Dorothy Darby Smith (theater); Fr. Joseph O'Connell; Professor Murli (Gonzaga-in-Florence); Father Tony Lehmann; Father Clement Regimbal; Signora Johnson (Gonzaga-in-Florence); Professor Carolyn Valone (Gonzaga-in-Florence); all of my education and political science courses.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Among my many wonderful memories of Gonzaga are: life in the residence halls (Patrick Welch Hall, Chardin House, Stensen [Gonzaga-in-Florence], and Dooley House; freshman orientation; meeting new friends; challenging classes; convocations; Masses in the Student Chapel; retreats at Waikiki Retreat House; my year in the the Gonzaga-in-Florence program; Gonzaga basketball; dorm parties; acting in University productions; campus politics; and the list goes on and on.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

My years at Gonzaga (particularly my year in Florence) taught me the importance of being a life-long learner and a global citizen.

What are your passions and interests today?

My interests today include writing, hiking, and traveling.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

As Principal, led two schools to U.S. Dept of Education Blue Ribbon status (top 1% of schools in the country): Our Lady of the Lake School, Lake Oswego, Oregon, 1990; and St. Athanasius School, Evanston, Illinois, 2012. Over the years, I have served as teacher, counselor, and administrator at the university, secondary and elementary levels, enjoying each position and the many wonderful teachers and other colleagues, students and parents with whom I worked. I volunteered on parish and school activities, professional organizations and non-profits dealing with at-risk students and literacy in Guatemala.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Fr. Vincent Beuzer, who conversed with me for hours in the Cog during my spring visitation weekend to the campus, giving me confidence and encouragement to pursue my dreams, and exemplifying the interaction between students and teachers/administrators/adults that would be a valued hallmark of my Gonzaga experience. Fr. James Gaffney, Issues of Contemporary Theology teacher at Gonzaga-in-Florence, who challenged us to take moral stands on important, timeless topics such as contraception; conscientious objection; the existence of God; the policy of Pius XII concerning Nazi treatment of the Jews; and unilateral disarmament. Joan Codd, Associate Dean of Students, who guided me through the graduate school admissions process, and years later hired me as Counselor on her staff at St.

Mary's Academy when I returned to Portland. We have remained best friends to this day.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Wonderful blend of academic challenge; friendships; adventure; and personal growth. I thrived on the sense of community.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

When trying to decide whether to continue playing on the Women's basketball team, I sought advice from Fr. Tom Greif, Dean of Students. Instead of telling me what to do, he challenged me to make my own decision based on what I felt was best for me, my values and my goals.

What are your passions and interests today?

My husband and I are animators with Global Catholic Climate Movement, working to increase awareness and action related to saving the environment. We also sing in the parish choir. The greatest joy of our lives is interacting with our children and grandchildren, who live in Illinois and New York.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Not at all clear what to do with a math major I got interested in vocational counseling. Completed a M.Ed. in 1972. After 8 years working as a Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor for a state agency my wife, Mary, and I started a private practice in rehabilitation counseling in 1983 and as it is said the rest is history. Through professional and personal association I have been invited to participate in variety of labor market training events in countries transitioning from communist systems. I did trainings in Macedonia, Poland, Bulgaria, Serbia and Armenia.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Too many! As a math major Mr. McWilliams was a significant influence. Caroline Valone art history teacher in Florence deserves a shout out.

Joseph Day

Spouse's name and alma mater:

Leslie Preston Day, Bryn Mawr College

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Grad school at Stanford (MA and PhD in Classics). One-year jobs at USC and Indiana; five years at the College of Wooster; and then permanently at Wabash College from 1983. -- Every summer and sabbatical and several years with fellowships spent at the American School of Classical Studies at Athens, where I was visiting Whitehead Professor in 2011-12. -- Main research on Greek inscribed epigram, i.e., inscriptions in poetic verse; a 2010 book and many articles and reviews. -- I don't know if there will be a box for this below, but a very important part of my professional life is also personal: my wife Leslie is also a Classicist, a brilliant field archaeologist (BA Bryn Mawr; MA and PhD Cincinnati). Throughout my entire career at Wabash, she has been my colleague in the Classics Department (in fact, for the last ten years, she was my boss as department chair).

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Most important, Fr. Fredric W. Schlatter, SJ; also John H. Taylor, SJ, and Prof. Hans Dietz. Fr. Schlatter taking us through the prose of Plato or the history of fifth-century Athens; Fr. Taylor (in his Dean's office) taking us through Cicero's orations and making us compose Latin; Prof. Dietz taking us through Sophocles' Oedipus and Homer's Iliad. Those were wonderful days.

Joe and Leslie Day at Agrigento, Sicily (March 2013)

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I was a Classics nerd! So I had great, close friendships both with other Classics students and Classics professors; but I didn't take advantage of developing a broader social network, which I do somewhat regret. Terrific memories within my field of study, however: perhaps most important for my future was getting, as a junior and senior, a real sense of confidence in my abilities to read Latin and Greek and do ancient studies. Thanks to Gonzaga, I grew up as an intellectual, and I did it in the company of friends who were just as fascinated by the subject as I was.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Since I'm a now retired professor of Classics (but still pursuing scholarship actively), I think I've answered that above.

What are your passions and interests today?

Classics. Leslie and I have offices on the Wabash campus, and we work on our research and publication programs every weekday; and every spring (usually most of May, some of April and/or June) we're in Greece, pursuing those programs.

What was your degree?

BA, Art

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I ended up getting additional education (University of Maryland) in accounting - Art just wasn't going to pay the bills! Worked in the accounting field for various industries, including CPAs, architects and engineers, insurance, education and aerospace; We have lived in Utah, Germany, Washington and Alaska where I was able to enjoy learning about many diverse industries while raising our son.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Bob Gilmore's art classes really motivated me to try different mediums for my creativity. I do wish I had worked harder and paid more in attention in philosophy and theology as I find both interesting and more useful now!

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Lots of hard work but also many good times. Working on the yearbook, Sunday dress up for dinner, train trips to Seattle, Idaho, and living in the dorm are all treasured memories.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

GU really strengthened my spiritual life and taught me that God comes first. Also a strong sense of giving to others is most satisfying.

What are your passions and interests today?

I still love to create. I do a lot of quilting and different things with fabric. I also enjoy gardening, travel and time with family and friends.

Besides working for three years in Campus Ministry at GU I taught for many years in the Religious Studies Dept., mainly about Christian Marriage and Spirituality. For over 25 years I have helped prepare couples for marriage at St. Al's Church. Currently, I see counseling and spiritual direction clients at my office near campus. I have also written eight books on practical spirituality, as well as a couple with my husband, Mitch.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

I remember warmly Franz Schneider and John Sisk, as well as Fr. Joe Conwell, Fr. Tom Royce and Fr. Armand Nigro.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I enjoyed all my classes -- some more than others. I also enjoyed being active in the Student Chapel and working at Crosby Library filing catalog cards and visiting with people who would come in the library. I remember some of the retreats at Bozarth mansion.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

The ability to reflect critically on what I've heard or seen.

What are your passions and interests today?

I enjoy reading, biking, some gardening and travel, and I volunteer some at the local public school. I still love teaching adults and plan to do some more writing.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I graduated from WSU/EWU master's program for Communication Disorders and spent over 20 years practicing Speech Therapy at Sacred Heart Medical Center. After SHMC I worked approx 10 years for Kindred/Gentiva Home Health Rehab and loved every moment of it.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

I had Dr. Fred Stanton for my speech and hearing classes who made me feel like I was talking at home with my dad. Fr. Evoy knew my family from Seattle and would be as friendly as could be but a hard grader. Mr. Ryan, math teacher let me do book reports so I didn't fail his class-no pride left there....to me GU was a large school but the professors were all "in" to be there for the students and help them excel in whatever their aspirations were.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

My memories of GU are heartfelt and lasting. I had great roommates in Marcia Bloom and Cheri DeMers Kingen. Being able to go to GU games was a highlight as we always were able to get in Not like today....I remember studying hard, laughing a lot especially around Lynn O'Leary and walking/running around campus to various classes/activities. Fr. Carroll's masses in the student chapel when I did make it were spot on at the time.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

That going to Gonzaga made you part of a family that though we are apart we will always be connected. I have shared life and memories with many of my classmates. When we get together it seems like no time has past since we last met. Hard to find that in our fast paced lives today.

What are your passions and interests today?

Now that I have retired I love working at 2nd Harvest Food Bank and working at church for receptions as needed. Great new group of giving people who want to pay it forward in our community. I have a new bike and love riding to Harrison around Coeur d' Alene lake. Walking helps to keep the muffin top at bay..AND with 14 grandchildren there is always an opportunity to support someone/something. I now want to start traveling but we will see with all the changes in international travel with COVID 19 issues.

Faye Fuchs

Names, ages, & alma mater of your children:

Kathleen Fuchs - Eastern Washington University; Rebecca Fuchs, Yakima Community College; Allison Fuchs, Western Washington University.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I was a middle school special education teacher for Loudoun County public schools for three and a half years before becoming the assistant special education director for that County. Loudoun County is in northern Virginia just outside of Washington DC. In the mid-70's the federal government was working on implementation of a new law for the education of all children with disabilities called Public Law 94-142. The authors of this legislation reached out to a number of surrounding county education programs for review and input of their many drafts. It was an exciting time, meeting with them, discussing challenges, and understanding their intent and what it would mean for each county to gear up. Although the name has since changed, this law has been reauthorized many times and is the basis for the system we have today. In 1979 I left Virginia and settled in Yakima, Washington working at the Educational Service District #105. I was the special education director there for 35 of the 38 years of employment. My work included consulting with 25 school districts in Central Washington, implementing both Federal and State changes, educating administrators and teachers, and checking their level of implementation. In this role I was able to work with State administrators and enjoy inter-agency collaboration with many local agencies. I was blessed to have an exceptional staff.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

I had many great professors at GU, but Mr. Herzog stands out in my mind as being one of my favorites. He taught us German. He was like your favorite uncle or grandfather, calm and caring, wise and gentle. He worked very hard at teaching us pronunciation and rules of the language while giving us insight to the country he loved. I remember him talking about how chocolate made in America is nothing compared to that made in Germany. I attended GU before the University had a special education major, so I had to make up a list of my own classes that I thought would prepare me for a master's program. Child Development, Emotional Disturbance, classes in Intellectual Deficits, Physiology, and Speech and Language Issues, were exciting and new. I received firsthand experience by working with students at Lakeland Village, an institution for individuals with intellectual deficits. These classes were invaluable to me and lead to a master's degree in special education at Boston College.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

One's college years are like no other in your life. There are too many wonderful times to recount here. I made friends that remain to this day. I had one roommate who taught me how fragile her diabetic condition was when she took the wrong kind of insulin; another roommate from Mexico who taught me phrases in Spanish like, "I have a lot of homework tonight" (side note: the Spanish words for "homework" and "diarrhea" sound alike); and a third roommate took me on my first trip to California to visit her family. Oh yes, let's not forget the time that my last name was misspelled in the "Daily Dope". I received numerous phone calls from guys on campus about that one. I felt the community of daily mass in the chapel at noon and the peace of praying alone at St. Als. Music was a part of my life while at GU. As part of the pep band, I played at every home basketball game. During the four years in band we were able to play a concert with Doc Severinson, who lead the band on the Johnny Carson Show, toured and played for western Washington communities during our spring break, and made a record. We made beautiful music together. There were dances, bonfires, and panty raids. One winter it was particularly cold and girls were allowed to wear PANTS to class for a couple of days. I cannot count the number of hours I spent studying in the "stacks" on the lower level of the library. It was the one place that you could hide and really get some work done; that was a part of it too.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

I was born into a very strict Catholic family. I attended a Catholic grade school and went to church regularly. We prayed the rosary every night after dinner and attended every Lenten devotion. My father made me go to GU while my friends all got to go to WSU. I think that if I would not have gone to Gonzaga, I would have practiced my faith because I was taught to do so, not because I wanted to. I was the first in my family to go to college. When I got to GU I felt I was not academically up to the level as the other students. Freshman year, first semester, was very hard!! I studied as much as I could, but somehow I was just not able to translate enough German philosophy to get through the class. It was a very small class, I was called on often, and not what I signed up for. But here I was reading Goethe. When I just couldn't study anymore, in between classes, before or after dinner, I would stop by St. Als for a few minutes. I would just sit there and little by little I would feel peace come over me. A peace I found nowhere else. To this day, I find a peace in church that I do not expect elsewhere. St. Als is still my favorite church.

What are your passions and interests today?

Today, I enjoy retirement. I continue my involvement in special education as a board member of Entrust Services, an agency serving adults with disabilities. My interests have always included family and I am so proud to be the mother of three beautiful young women. They add excitement and joy to each day.

Since graduation, I went on to Law School and have continued to work as a lawyer for almost 50 years. While I have cut back, I still get the occasional call. For the last few years I have served on the Board of Regents for Gonzaga University which allows me to maintain contact with the students and faculty. Yes, there still is a family atmosphere on campus. I am always proud to meet and work with a fellow Zag, regardless of age. In the same vein, I spent a semester at Gonzaga-in Florence teaching business law. While the cultural experience was amazing, it was greatly enhanced by my work with the students. I have not abandoned that Law School as I continue to server on the Law School Foundation Board as well as having served a stint on the Law School Board of Advisors. Over the years it has been my privilege to serve on the Boards of such diverse organizations as the Spokane Peace and Justice Center, Spokane Ballet, and the Spokane Country Club.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Richard Twohy, S.J.: American Political Thought. The lessons I learned kept me wanting to challenge myself more each day.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

My memory is a free and caring lifestyle with friends who have become friends for life. The education I received gave me the academic and philosophical experience to build a career where hopefully I have helped others have a better life. There are memories of many fun times and first experiences that are too innumerable to list, but make me wonder whether or not I can start all over again!

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

The family atmosphere present while I was in school taught me that I could always reach out to a fellow classmate as a friend at any time during that last 50 years. Those experiences taught me to always try to help someone better their life.

What are your passions and interests today?

My passion, past and present, has been to travel the world. I have met many fascinating people including Zag alumni in many far flung places. That has led me to encourage the University to initiate a Center for Global Engagement. I have bee fortunate to accompany the Gonzaga Choral group to trips to both Africa and Italy. The Law School has also started it's own which is functioning very well . Since retirement I have assisted the formation of a non-profit corporation, Clean Water Cambodia, Inc. which focuses on providing water wells for the poor people around the area of Angkor Wat. It has been very rewarding to make repeated trips to Siem Reap and go out and engage poor families ad be of assistance to them. Last but not least, Gonzaga Basketball. Who would have thought that the GU Bulldogs would play for the national championship before our 50th year of graduation. Yes they did, and it has been a wonderful journey every year including some of the old losing days to follow Gonzaga basketball.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

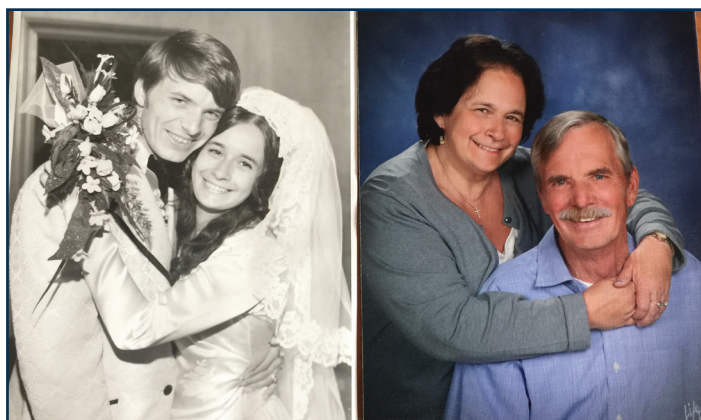

John remembers hanging out at the Cog and Stromboli's Double Whammy. We both remember cheering on the Zags BB (and still do!). We both remember Mass at the Admin building with the "Soul Concern" leading the music. John: Welch Hall and Dooley House. Mary: Catherine Monica. Mary: Gonzaga in Florence memories!

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

John: I learned to live by a code of ethics and to be a self starter. It proved to be invaluable in my professional career. Mary: The teaching degree that I was able to get at GU enabled me to teach elementary school in the Archdiocese of Portland and Seattle for 4 years and then I transitioned to Director of Faith Formation at Holy Rosary Parish, Edmonds for 45 years. Now retired and still using my teaching skills with my grandchildren.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

Jean (Friedhoff) and Kevin Kelly, Class of 1970 We were engaged in Florence while we were at Gonzaga-inFlorence in May 1969 and married in Seattle in December 1969. We recently celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary. After Gonzaga, we moved to Berkeley. Kevin went to law school there. Jean taught for two years and then went to graduate school. We moved to Seattle in 1973 and have lived there ever since. We have two wonderful sons, who are now 37 and 41. Shortly after coming to Seattle, Jean entered a Ph.D program at the University of Washington. She then joined the faculty of the UW School of Nursing, where she developed a widely used curriculum (Promoting First Relationships) to promote secure attachment between young children and their caregivers.

She retired as a full professor in 2012. Kevin practiced law until his retirement, also in 2012. The last 20 years of his career focused on representing companies and non-profits in negotiating agreements to develop and deliver drugs and vaccines. Those negotiations took him to Europe and Asia dozens of times, which he loved. Our retirement is now spent in travel, volunteering, and, by far most importantly, with our five grandchildren (two in Seattle and three in Santa Monica), who light up our lives! One of the most impactful experiences we had while we attended college was Gonzaga-in-Florence. The year in Florence played a significant role in shaping us; not just just because we were engaged there, but because we were exposed to friends, travel, schooling and adventures that have greatly influenced our journey.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I worked as a Speech Therapist for Head Start in central Washington for two years after graduation. I also held a Washington State Teaching Certificate and have taught grades one through eight. After our children were all in school I returned to GU and obtained my MA in Educational Administration, Curriculum, and Instruction. That degree took me back to GU where I was hired to open the first Certification Office in the School of Education. I worked for fifteen years as the founder and Director of Certification working with and advising students seeking Washington State Certification as teachers, counselors, and administrators. I left Gonzaga in 2003. I absolutely loved every minute of my work with students at GU. In 2004 I joined the development team at the Spokane Guilds' School & Neuromuscular Center for disabled babies as their first Planned Giving Officer. I retired this position in 2015. I have had a forty year history in fund development experience with many non-profit organizations. Now in retirement I have returned to working with my family, in our family business, of 43 years.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I have many good memories of my time at GU and have always thought of Gonzaga as my second home. As an undergrad, from Los Angeles, CA, it was a wonderful, friendly environment to live in. The students, staff and professors were always very friendly and helpful. I attended Gonzaga-in-Florence in 1968-1969 and experienced many adventures traveling in Europe. I met my husband over 52 years ago at GU which has been a true blessing in my life.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

I have always felt very fortunate to have been given the opportunity to attend GU by my parents. I followed my older brother in the Jesuit tradition of education. I was driven by a love of humanity that was formed by my parents and developed at Gonzaga. I feel I have carried Gonzaga's philosophy of true concern for community and my fellow man in my life.

What are your passions and interests today?

My first passion are my children and grandchildren and supporting all of their many activities. My second passion is working with my husband and two of our four children in our family business. My third passion is raising money for non-profit organizations in the Spokane community.

anywhere. Saturday Steak Night at the COG, Intramural Basketball, Dooley Hall and Rob loosing the lab rat at 2:00 in the morning. Watching the Draft Lotto, Zip's
Mae's, Packy's, The Bubble Inn and the Cat House and Graduation Weekend.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

That you can have an idea for a project and actually get it started, but without the input, critique, support and investing from others it is very difficult to keep the project moving on.

What are your passions and interests today?

We are enjoying everyday, now more than when I was working. Working was more like, living in a tunnel, with a light at the end, but never really got close or even thought about ever getting there. But since retirement everyday we wake up in the light and everyday is a new adventure, even if we never leave the house.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

1970-74: worked as a Physical Therapy technician and counselor aide in recruitment of foster homes for the developmentally disabled, Omaha, Nebraska. 1974-87: volunteer in Yakima and Missoula community organizations in event planning, fundraising and educational efforts. My three children were born in these years. 1989-91: I became a single parent who needed a refreshed career path. Worked as a Volunteer Coordinator for Missoula Aging Services while trying to discern the next step in my career path. 1991-93: attended and graduated from Radiologic Technology School, St. Pat's Hospital, Missoula MT. 1993-2013: worked as a radiologic technologist in various hospital and clinical settings in Missoula County. 1995: Project director with a coalition of providers to address and plan for low-cost cancer screenings needs for women in Missoula County. 2013: happily embraced full time retirement and continue to participate in volunteer efforts for our public schools and local food bank. 2020: I am now a 50 year alumnus of Gonzaga University!! It has been an invaluable gift to me personally and professionally. Beyond any professional or volunteer work experience, my most valued achievement in life was raising three terrific children through middle and high school and then to college and advanced degrees. I was the first and only in my family of origin to obtain a four year college degree. Because of my experience at GU, I placed great value on higher education for my children. They have all become successful providers and parents to their families. This is the gift that Gonzaga gave to me.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Prof Lee Norton in Communications and Writing; Fr. Morrisette, Intermediate French; Fr Dussault, Information Services (work-study); Fr. Pat Carroll; Fr Anthony Via (European history); and Intro to Prose (can't remember the teacher name?). I worked hard at GU attending on a full scholarship and was rewarded with an experience of tremendous value for the remainder of my life.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I arrived at Gonzaga as a scared Freshman from a rural community in Oregon. I'd never traveled outside of Oregon until I reached GU by train with a fellow high school classmate Ken Hermens from Mt Angel Oregon. We were met at the train station by a Spur and a Knight. Gonzaga quickly became an exciting new world for me: meeting new Catherine-Monica friends; dining at the Cog and Cataldo Dining Hall; ushering Bing Crosby's kids as a Spur; experiencing snow in the winter; walking downtown to Spokane; becoming an official member of the unofficial "Moose Club" started by Montana women classmates primarily to celebrate St. Paddy's Day dressing in green scrubs and imbibing green beer (if we could find it and we did)! Junior year I met my husband to be, Bill Gromko (1970). We dated for two years and married a week after our graduation in May 1970. I want share a poem written by Roger Gillis, Class of 1969 (I believe) that I discovered among my yellowed keepsakes. His sentiments express my feelings about GU for those first years and the rest of my life. "Loneliness, anxieties: when can I go home? New surroundings, new adjustments: when can I go home? It's a new and different world, my friend. There's a lifetime in a day. But despite the college growing pains, pretty soon you will say, 'Maturity, activity, glad I found a home. I'm a better person now: Gonzaga is my home.' " -Roger Gillis

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

At Gonzaga, I learned to think, feel, and evaluate. I developed a lifelong desire to commit my life to something more than my own success. Gonzaga imparted to me a sense of mission to view the world through a much wider lens than I had ever experienced and then to make that world a better place because of who I was and who I would become. I will always carry a deep-rooted love in my heart for those years at Gonzaga. I regret that the Class of '70 cannot reunite and celebrate in this astounding pandemic year that marks our 50th anniversary. My prayers are for health and wellness to each of you with hopes that we may meet again in 2021!! See you then.

What are your passions and interests today?

I married my current husband Paul Polzin in 2006. We have a blended family of 13 grandchildren ranging in age from 18 to 3. We both love to travel and have been to Europe and Mexico numerous times. I have had the privilege of visiting my son Anthony in Bolivia in the Peace Corps in 2004. He is a 2001 Gonzaga graduate. We spend precious time with our grandchildren and children who live in Denver, Portland and Seattle. I am a member of Christ the King Catholic Church and my husband is a member of Holy Spirit Episcopal Church. We attend 'home and home' alternately. My interests are family, hiking, biking, photography, volunteer projects and maintaining old and new friendships.

Kathy Quinn

Spouse's name and alma mater:

Dean Averill, Boise State University

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

My 30 career teaching in Catholic school was a joy. My greatest satisfaction, and I think, my most significant contribution was developing curriculum and connecting students to service learning projects. I wove these social justice projects into classroom assignments. I asked students to volunteer in schools and agencies serving those in need: the homeless and the hungry. In the classroom we studied the causes and effects of those social issues. The students contributed wonderful resource materials from what they had learned in their volunteer work. I always hoped that these experiential lessons would follow my students into their next stages of development and on into their very lives as adults. During my teaching career, I could see a place for a Master's in Theology. I wanted to include Catholic Social Teachings into my degree because I could see a vital place for these teaching in my real world of the classroom and the students' volunteer work. With this MA I was able to add multi-dimensions of social justice into my curriculum. I decided to retire in the spring of 2016. Dean and I made a trip to China that very next fall and Germany the next year. Travel continues to be an eye-opening experience for us. We are both volunteering in the community and find that these experiences offer so much to our sense of belonging.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Fr. Anthony Via and Fr. Fredric Schlatter were such an inspiration that I majored in history. And I finally understood Math thanks to John Firkins.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Some of the most important friendships in my life began during my years at Gonzaga. Experiences during my Gonzaga in Florence year gave me a world view that continues to influence how I think.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Gonzaga helped me understand that questioning and listening are essential skills for an educated person.

What are your passions and interests today?

It's a pleasure to visit family who are located throughout the United States. My work in our food bank has been a valuable learning experience. We continue to plan and hope for more travel.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Dorothy Darby Smith, Mrs. Stanton, Fr. Dussault, SJ, Margaret Bryant (Office of Information Services), and Choir Director Cook.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I entered Gonzaga wondering if I should major in science or music. I chose a BS in Medical Technology but continued with my love of music and drama. I was in choir, played the piano when I could, and was in the spring musicals. As a work-study student I worked in the office of Information Services during the time when I was not in class or labs. I had great roommates and made so many good friends who still are part of my life today. The great choir trip to San Francisco was great fun. Softball on the field across from Madonna was super. The dances at the COG were fun as well. The retreats that were offered helped guide me to my final decision to become a Jesuit Volunteer after graduation.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Gonzaga influenced me in giving service to others. I was able to use my love of science in more than one career. I began in the clinical lab, then moved to the high school classroom, worked with teachers at FHCRC in curriculum training, and now working with student teachers of science at UW as a field supervisor. As a Jesuit Volunteer after I left Gonzaga, I was "ruined me for life." To this day the JVC organization is close to my heart.

What are your passions and interests today?

My family is my passion that has grown over the past 50 years. Clinton, husband, for the past 41 years and 2 wonderful sons, Clint and Danny. They bring love to my life. Other passions include: Quilting; Drama - working with local high schools in their productions; Science Education as a field supervisor at UW Tacoma; JVC volunteering.

Spouse's name and alma mater:

Robert Thomas Elder, St. Olaf's

Names, ages, & alma mater of your children:

Adam Elder, 32; Lily Rose Elder, 30.

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

I loved my 2-3 years as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the City of Hope in Duarte, CA. I worked for Dr. Bruce Wallace. We used radio-labelled oligonucleotides to detect point mutations that caused genetic diseases like sickle cell anemia.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

All my chemistry professors. I see their faces but cannot remember their names. I got hugely good advice from Dr. K? who recommended the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana as an excellent graduate school for chemistry. He was right!

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Fellow students are the most important. I remember my fellow chemistry majors - Frank, Jack, Steve and Marty - as really good persons. We were the few who finished a tough major. I was very lucky that Irma Terhaar was my first roommate at St. Catherine- St. Monica Hall. My good fortune continued with roommates. Grace Chiwama from Zambia was my roommate my Junior year. Margaret Sleavin who finished with a degree in civil engineering was applauded at graduation. Looking through the 1970 yearbook, there are many familiar faces - no space to list them all. Fay Fuchs, Mary Jo Di Rocco, Sally Bulger, Molly Fitzmaurice, Pat Buchanan, Bill Gromko, Linda Chandler, etc., etc. I remember that I spent most of my time studying and didn't have much time for extracurricular activities. I managed to make it to one basketball game. I really enjoyed my German class. It was easier for me than for others probably because my first 2 languages were Polish and German (which I forgot)... I learned English in kindergarten. I came to the USA as a Displaced Person and became a citizen in 1962.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Classes were small and personal. I'm not sure if I would have survived an undergraduate program at a mega-university like U of Illinois. My first year there I was a teaching assistant in General Chemistry. There were 2000 students for this subject. Several hundred got a professor and the rest were divided amongst teaching assistants.

What are your passions and interests today?

My two children are both autistic. I have spent years trying to figure out the cause. I have piles of scientific papers all over my house. The apparent cause is a silent epilepsy in the auditory cortex. This affects auditory and visual processing. I consider the autism spectrum to be degrees of Helen Keller. I cannot forgive psychology and psychiatry for the decades of "blame the mommy for autism." Psychologists and psychiatrists still need to be trained to pick up epilepsy and then refer clients to neurologists. My present passion is to counter the naive, jump on the bandwagon, do-gooder fanatic advocates who claim that all developmentally disabled persons can be served in the community, i.e., group homes. These nit-wits, who have neither credentials nor personal experience, are responsible for the closures of developmental centers in a number of states. Some persons are too much of a danger to themselves and others or too medically fragile to be placed in group homes. One result is many deaths in group homes. The other result is that the developmentally disabled are following the mentally ill to prison. We've gone back to the 1800s. Furthermore, the closures of these intermediate care facilities violates the Supreme Court Olmstead decision. Parents in a number of states are trying to fight back but don't have the resources to hire expensive lawyers. I personally cannot stand the Governor of MT, Steve Bullock, who refused to veto the bill closing our last developmental center. The result so far - 3 developmentally disabled persons (children in adult bodies) went to prison and 2 died in their group home placements.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Mr. Fitzmaurice my English teacher who gave me reason to understand why Shakespeare is the Bard of all time - going into the teachers lounge in the basement at night and seeing if he was still there & if so being able to ask anything about what we were studying. The passion he had for the deep truths that were covered in literature. Fr. Vincent Bruzer and the theology courses I took with him & being able to go to the cog and sit hours with him discussing theology were golden. Fr. Wolf, Fr. Morrisette, Fr. Connell, Fr. Doherty, Fr Davis, all were teachers who exuded passion about their subjects and we could speak to them at all hours of the day, and they would listen with respect and answer with truth. I say this for myself, God blessed me more than I could ever deserve by these selfless people He set aside for me at Gonzaga.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

Full tackle football games on 4th floor Welch. The "Birthday" window on Welch's 3rd floor. Snowball fights between the sophs & frosh (woe to any car that entered the firing zone). Taps being blown for De Smet hall at 10pm while being jeered by us in Welch. Sat. steak dinners at the COG. Most of all the incredible wealth of people from all over, sharing their lives & stories that became my life and story. Gonzaga gave me my soul, my heart, amazing friends and pride that I am a Zag for life.

What is something you learned or experienced at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life?

Love for scripture and literature. I will never be a master nor professor because I ever will be the farmer who plants his best seeds and moves on, leaving Christ to tend the crops - and I, it is my duty to study the soil and make sure when I plant the seed it has a chance to grow - the harvest is the Lords, the glory and riches are His alone, I plant seeds and learn along the way.

What are your passions and interests today?

Reading theology and old classics again - there is a haunting beauty in those books. Shooting trap and skeet and lake/stream fishing (to eat-yum). Being in my ranch in Hawaii with my "pets" the cattle.

B.A. Spanish

Professional and volunteer career highlights:

After GU I attended UCLA and got a MA in Spanish Literature 1972. I returned to my High School Marymount Palos Verdes and taught Spanish. In the Fall of 1973 I began teaching at St. Anthony High School in Long Beach, CA. I was class advisor for several years and supervised cheerleaders, games, dances and proms. In addition, I was chair of the language department and served on several academic committees. In 2001 I was selected as an honorary "Saint" and inducted into the St. Anthony Hall of Fame, as a "teacher, mentor, and friend." In 2004 I began volunteering at the St. Mary Medical Center in NICU where I hold, feed, and burp babies. I continue to this day.

Professors or classes that made an impact on you:

Professors who have made an impact on me include Jack Willey, my Spanish teacher, who instilled a love of Spanish literature in me. Father Vincent Beuzer also touched me when he said, "no religion is worth having unless it can be questioned." Quite a statement for a freshman to digest.

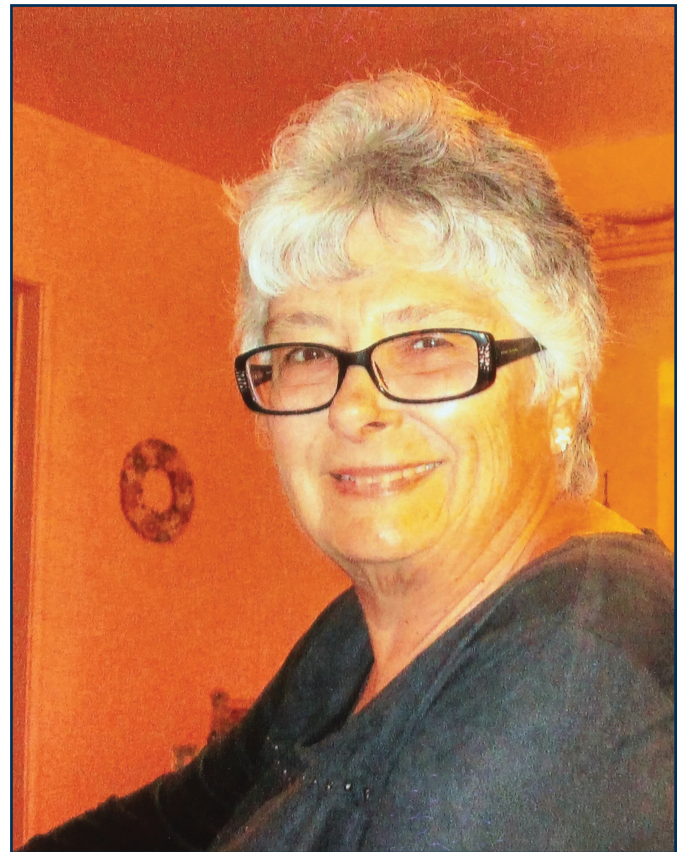

Memories of your life at Gonzaga ...

I played volleyball at GU and as a member of the Zag team I was voted most inspirational player of the Pine League in 1969. I was also named a member of Gamma Pi Epsilon, National Jesuit Honor Society for Women. The friends I have made at GU have definitely made an impact on my life making me the person I am today. We have shared so many joys and sorrows together.
